Village of River Hills, WI

Annual Comment on River Hills

Issuer Profile

The Village of River Hills is located in Milwaukee County in southeastern Wisconsin, approximately 10 miles north of Milwaukee. The county has a population of 954,209 and a high population density of 3,950 people per square mile. The county's median family income is $62,314 (3rd quartile) and the February 2020 unemployment rate was 4.3% (3rd quartile) ². The largest industry sectors that drive the local economy are health services, manufacturing, and retail trade.

We regard the coronavirus outbreak as a social risk under our environmental, social and governance framework, given the substantial implications for public health and safety. We do not see any material immediate credit risks for River Hills. However, the situation surrounding coronavirus is rapidly evolving and the longer term impact will depend on both the severity and duration of the crisis. If our view of the credit quality of River Hills changes, we will update our opinion at that time.

Credit Overview

River Hills' credit position is very healthy. Its Aa3 rating matches the median rating of Aa3 for cities nationwide. The key credit factors include a very strong wealth and income profile, a small tax base and a healthy financial position. It also reflects an exceptionally light debt burden and a mid-ranged pension liability.

Economy and Tax Base: The coronavirus pandemic is driving an unprecedented economic slowdown. We currently forecast real US GDP to decline significantly over the first and second quarters of 2020, but a more moderate decline for the full year. Local governments with the highest exposure to the tourism, health care, consumer and international trade sectors could suffer particularly severe impacts.

The village has a very strong economy and tax base overall, which are relatively favorable when compared to the assigned rating of Aa3. The median family income is a robust 248.8% of the US level. In addition, the full value per capita ($288,279) is above other Moody's-rated cities nationwide, but decreased between 2014 and 2018. That said, River Hills' total full value ($456 million) is much smaller than the US median.

Finances: The financial position of the village is strong overall and is relatively favorable in comparison to its Aa3 rating. The cash balance as a percent of operating revenues (50.5%) is slightly above the US median, but declined modestly from 2014 to 2018. Also, the fund balance as a percent of operating revenues (13%) is much weaker than other Moody's-rated cities nationwide.

Debt and Pensions: River Hills has a negligible debt burden and is a credit strength relative to the assigned rating of Aa3. The net direct debt to full value (0.7%) is slightly below the US median, and remained stable between 2014 and 2018. On the contrary, the village's pension liability is mid-ranged and is slightly unfavorable with respect to its Aa3 rating. The Moody's-adjusted net pension liability to operating revenues (1.1x) is favorably lower than the US median.

Management and Governance: Wisconsin cities have an institutional framework score ³ of "A", which is moderate. The sector's major revenue source, property tax revenue, is subject to a cap that restricts cities from increasing their operating property tax levies except to capture amounts represented by net new construction growth. Revenues and expenditures tend to be predictable. Across the sector, fixed and mandated costs are generally high. Expenditures are somewhat flexible, as collective bargaining is allowed for public safety employees but is curbed for non-public safety employees. Many cities utilize tax increment districts to attract economic development, often issuing debt to fund initial infrastructure in undeveloped areas. While tax increment districts are ultimately expected to generate revenues sufficient to cover initial city outlay, cities are exposed to economic downturns which could halt development.

Sector Trends - Wisconsin Cities

Wisconsin cities will continue to benefit from an improving state economy. The overall economy continues to experience steady growth but remains dependent on manufacturing. Property tax revenues will remain stable or will slightly improve due to increased construction activity and development within tax increment districts. Most Wisconsin cities participate in the Wisconsin Retirement System, which continues to be relatively well-funded. Overall, fixed costs are manageable and not a pressure for cities.

Endnotes

- 1 The rating referenced in this report is the issuer's General Obligation (GO) rating or its highest public rating that is GO-related. A GO bond is generally backed by the full faith and credit pledge and total taxing power of the issuer. GO-related securities include general obligation limited tax, annual appropriation, lease revenue, non-ad valorem, and moral obligation debt. The referenced ratings reflect the government's underlying credit quality without regard to state guarantees, enhancement programs or bond insurance.
- 2 The demographic data presented, including population, population density, per capita personal income and unemployment rate are derived from the most recently available US government databases. Population, population density and per capita personal income come from the American Community Survey while the unemployment rate comes from the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

The largest industry sectors are derived from the Bureau of Economic Analysis. Moody's allocated the per capita personal income data and unemployment data for all counties in the US census into quartiles. The quartiles are ordered from strongest-to-weakest from a credit perspective: the highest per capita personal income quartile is first quartile, and the lowest unemployment rate is first quartile.

- 3 The institutional framework score assesses a municipality's legal ability to match revenues with expenditures based on its constitutionally and legislatively conferred powers and responsibilities. See US Local Government General Obligation Debt \(December 2016\) methodology report for more details.
- 4 For definitions of the metrics in the Key Indicators Table, US Local Government General Obligation Methodology and Scorecard User Guide \(July 2014\). Metrics represented as N/A indicate the data were not available at the time of publication.
- 5 The medians come from our most recently published local government medians report, Medians - Tax base growth underpins sector strength, while pension challenges remain \(May 2019\) which is available on Moody's.com. The medians presented here are based on the key metrics outlined in Moody's GO methodology and the associated scorecard.
